产品和背景

Corning provides communications technology at light speed. The materials pioneer is one of the world's top makers of fiber-optic cable, which it invented more than 20 years ago. Corning's Telecommunications unit (about 50% of sales and growing) makes optical fiber and cable and photonic components. The company's Advanced Materials unit makes industrial and scientific products, including environmental and semiconductor materials.

Its Information Display segment makes glass products for TVs, VCRs, and flat-panel displays. Corning also owns crystal maker Steuben Glass. Its joint ventures include beleaguered breast implant maker Dow Corning.

The company operates 40 plants in 10 countries.
