For glass manufacturers :

Certinadvance® : new combination of product and equipment for hot and cold end coating.

Hot end coatings with Certincoat® : Applying a uniform hot-end coating of tin-oxide, to a glass container provides an excellent surface for cold-end coating adhesion

Cold end coatings with Tegoglas® : It is the most widely recognized name in cold-end coating products around the world - a name that means quality, performance and ease of application.

For bottlers :

Kercoat®: Protecting coating for returnable glass bottles - Beer, Soft Drinks and Mineral Water markets

Opticoat®: Masking coating for returnable glass bottles - Beer, Soft Drinks and Mineral Water markets"

For flat glass :

Certincoat product range

Certincoat® low emissivity coatings combine exceptional energy savings performance with the durability and ease of handling of clear glass.
Certincoat® Pyrolytic Low E coatings impart windows with superior reflectivity and allow for the absorption of light or heat energy.
Certincoat® On-Line CVD system integrated into the glass making process, Certincoat CVD technology is available only for the float glass manufacturer.

产品和背景

France's leading chemicals producer, Arkema is aiming to become one of the global leaders in specialty chemicals. With its 19.000 employees and 136 production plants in 50 countries, Arkema has a revenue of €7.7 billion.

Arkema is building the future of the chemical industry using a responsible, innovation-based approach.

The Glass Coating team is strong of about 35 years of experience. Across the years, Arkema has been a real pioneer of the glass coating market. Thanks to our R&D, we have made the HEC landscape evolve in particular through the patent of the double loop system (link to Certincoat® hot-end coating) and very freshly with our new technologies T-Hood and Single Liner (link to Certinadvance®).

Further, we propose adapted technologies to complete the glass care through solution for returnable glass bottles (Kercoat® and Opticoat®).

Arkema participates in following events this year:

Drinktec - Munchen -September 11-15 2017
